

☀️ Sunshine and clear blue skies ☀️

Welcome back to another Otis's weekly update!

We are almost at the end of week 2 of our slow start back to in-person treatment care.... we love seeing the families as they come for their therapy sessions at the centre. It is very wonderful to have the sounds of children back in the building.

Finally thank you all for participating and donating your cans and bottles for our bottle drive "Recycle with Otis". Follow us on our social media for more updates. And, don't miss Jackie talking about Plagiocephaly at this week's OSNS Therapy Corner.

Stay safe, be kind and smile often!

Craft of The Week!

Summer is almost upon us, use this calendar to plan the month of July.

Mark the days with different hikes you want to go on, different beaches you want to swim at and new activities you want to try.

Once you have filled your calendar with summer plans, post your work on social media and tag OSNS so we can share your talent with our #OtisArmy.

Updates From Our Team:

Your Autism Intervention Team:

The Autism Intervention Program is excited to have a few kiddos back at the Centre for in-person services. The team has been successful in implementing new protocol for a safe and healthy return. We look forward to inviting more families back to in-person services as we proceed. Our team continues to be available for virtual therapy and support via phone, email, and video calls.

Your Early Intervention Team:

The early intervention team of therapists is gradually returning to seeing families in person at the centre two days a week, while also working from home two days a week providing virtual support to our families through Zoom calls, emails and phone calls. We are very excited to be seeing our families again!

Your Early Childhood Education Team:

KinderKids & KinderBear continue to provide child care for children of Essential Service Workers and other working parents. Some of our families who had been staying home due to COVID-19 are wanting to return to care now so numbers of children are increasing.

Children have been interested in planting seeds and growing things so our gardens will be planted with their seedlings and other bedding plants that were kindly donated from Garden Works this week. There will be cherry tomatoes, beans, pumpkins, cucumbers, carrots, sunflowers and other flowers growing here.

Tip of The Week!

How to make your child try more vegetables?

One good way to encourage children to try more fruits and vegetables is to have them help with gardening. Here are some tips on how to engage them:

- ask children which fruits and vegetables they would like to grow
- suggest fun, reliable plants such as purple carrots and striped beets
- teach children responsibility by assigning tasks like- watering, harvesting or weeding
- this will get them excited to taste the fruits (and vegetables) of their labor
- help them observe the process over time from seed sprouting to harvest and eating.

Weekly Community Shout Out!

This segment is dedicated to businesses, organizations and services groups to thank them for all they do to make this community such an amazing place to live. As the businesses are opening up, make sure to show some love and spend money locally.

Big love to our friends at the GardenWorks for their continued support in providing a learning garden to our children at the centre!!
